AIR AMERICA (USA, 10/1/1998-5/1/1999) [TV SERIES]

Credits: (pilot) director: Dimitri Logothetis; writer, Philip DeGuere.
Cast: (pilot) Lorenzo Lamas, Frank Bennett Perry, Scott Plank, Diana Barton, John Beck.
Summary: Action/adventure series set in a contemporary fictional Central American country of Costa Perdita loosely based on the 1990 Mel Gibson/Robert Downey Jr. motion picture. Rio Arnett (Lamas), a Navy pilot assigned to work undercover, and his buddy Wiley Ferrell (Plank) run an air cargo service that serves as a cover for CIA operations. Rio's father Frank (Perry) is a Vietnam veteran and former diplomat who runs an anti-drug trafficking organization in Buenaventura, the Costa Perdita capital. The series lasted just a year and only 22 of its 26 filmed episodes were aired. The episode “Old gold” (1/23/99) also features Al Craven (Beck) a Vietnam veteran buddy of Frank who is supposedly hunting for a legendary treasure, but turns out to have ulterior motives.

Brownfield, Paul. “First-run syndicated series are flexing their muscles; Television: The demand for product is high, and action shows provide a bonus: They’re strong in foreign markets” Los Angeles times (Oct 24, 1998), Calendar, p. 2.
Green, Nick. “Ventura county roundup; West County/Venture; television show shoot takes city by storm” Los Angeles times [Ventura County ed.] (Sep 24, 1998), p. 3.

c2006 J.K.M. Enterprises