Summary: War/adventure film set in Vietnam in the 1970s with some elements borrowed from Apocalypse now. Near the end of active American participation in the war, Navy Lt. Henderson (Lottimer) and his PBR crew are preparing to go home. After an attack on a North Vietnamese railroad, Cmdr. Jordan (Vincent) and his commando team rendezvous with Henderson in Soc Trang City where they are also joined by documentary filmmaker Mary Jackson (McWhirter) who is making a film about Jordan’s exploits, and a nun with some Catholic orphans. The group travels down river on Henderson’s boat, surviving numerous ambushes. The dogged pursuit by the Viet Cong/NVA is accounted for at the end of the film when it is revealed that Jordan is transporting a crate of stolen gold.
