CHILDISH THINGS (USA, 1966)
(Other titles: Confessions of Tom Harris; Tale of the cock)

Credits: director, John Derek; writer, Don Murray.
Cast: Don Murray, Linda Evans, David Brian, Angelique Pettyjohn.
Summary: Melodrama set in contemporary Las Vegas. Based on the true story of Tom Harris (Murray), a dissolute Vietnam veteran drunk, who tries amateur boxing. Eventually he takes a job collecting debts for gangsters. He rapes Pat Jennings (Evans) then gets religion and attempts to court her, following her to the farm her father runs for alcoholics.

“Childish things” American Film Institute catalog [GB] (Entry F6.0768)
Weldon, Michael. “The confessions of Tom Harris” in The psychotronic video guide
New York: St. Martin’s Griffin, 1996. (p. 119)