C4680 LE CIEL EST BLEU (FRANCE, 1971)
(Other titles: The sky is blue)

Credits: director/writer, Serge Leroy.
Cast: Frederic De Pasquale, Alexandra Stewart.

Summary: Melodrama set in contemporary France and Ireland. International photojournalist Nicholas (De Pasquale) has a crisis of conscience about his work and life in general. After seeing a friend killed while covering a war in Africa and the plight of children in Indochina, he realizes his work can have no effect on the world. He leaves his job and his girlfriend for a job doing sports coverage. While covering a rugby match between the French and Irish teams in Ireland, he runs into his old American girlfriend (Stewart). Their affair begins again and she helps him begin to sort things out.
