C6720 COOL BREEZE (USA, 1972)

Credits: director/writer, Barry Pollack; novel, W.R. Burnett.
Cast: Thalmus Rasulala, Judy Pace, Jim Watkins, Lincoln Kilpatrick.
Summary: Gangster/caper/blaxploitation film set in contemporary Los Angeles. A remake of the Asphalt Jungle with an all black cast, made to exploit the market created by the Shaft films. Sidney Lord Jones (Rasulala) is a recently released convict with a plan to steal $3 million in jewels. Among the accomplices he recruits is Travis Battle (Watkins), a Vietnam vet who is struggling to straighten out his life.

Hill, George H. (see under Parish, James Robert)
Parish, James Robert and Hill, George H. Black action films [GB] (p. 103-4)
Walker, Mark Edward. The representation of the Vietnam veteran in American narrative film [GB]
Weldon, Michael. The psychotronic video guide New York : St. Martin’s Griffin, 1996. (p. 120)
Worthy, Kim. “Cool breeze” Vietnam war feature filmography (1992 draft) [GB] (p. 90-91) and Vietnam war films [GB] (Entry 121)