D5740 DIRTY HARRY (USA, 1971)
(Other titles: Un salaud de flic; Smerige klabak)

Credits: director, Don Siegel ; writers, Harry Hulian Fink, Rita M. Fink.
Cast: Clint Eastwood, Reni Santoni, Harry Guardino, Andy Robinson.
Summary: Police film set in contemporary San Francisco. Harry Callahan (Eastwood) is a tough streetwise San Francisco cop who is called Dirty Harry for his violent inclinations and unorthodox methods. A rooftop psychopathic killer (and Vietnam vet) named Scorpio, who has already murdered two people, kidnaps a girl and threatens to kill her unless the city pays his ransom demand. Callahan acts without a warrant to find the girl (who is dead), but the killer is released because of Callahan's warrantless search. The killer next hijacks a school bus full of children, demanding another ransom and a getaway plane. Callahan rescues the children and shoots the killer as he attempts to surrender. As other police arrive, Callahan contemptuously throws away his badge.

Auster, Al and Quart, Leonard. How the war was remembered: Hollywood & Vietnam [GB] (p. 48, 99)
Clint Eastwood: an American Film Institute seminar on his work Los Angeles : AFI, 1973. [Held Nov 7, 1973]
____________ . “8 degrees of separation” Film comment 38 (Jul/Aug 2002), p. 50-53.

Dirty Harry Films and filming 18/6 (Mar 1972), p. 33-5.
Dirty Harry Listener 113/2896 (Feb 14, 1985), p. 28.

Dirty Harry Rolling stone 100 (Jan 20, 1972), p. 58.
Douglas, Wayne J. “The criminal psychopath as Hollywood hero” [GB]

Dray, Philip (see under Cagin, Seth)
Fink, H. J. and Riesner, Dean. Dirty Harry: a screenplay 1970-1971. _______ (see also under Malick, Terry)
Friedman, Bruce Jay. “Could Dirty Harry take Rooster Cogburn?” Esquire 86 (Sep 1976), p. 10+
Gibson, James William. warrior dreams [GB] (p. 5, 29, 74, 78, 82-4, 102, 109, 158, 284)
[Translated and reissued, London : Houghton, 1986; and New York : St. Martin’s, 1986]
Herman, Gary (see under Downing, David)

Milius, John (see under Malick, Terry)

Quart, Leonard (see under Auster, Al)

Riesner, Dean (see under Fink, H. J.)

Williams, Peter (see under Cole, Gerald)

c2005 J.K.M. Enterprises