Summary: A cautionary love story set in southern Vietnam in the 1980s. Mai, a high school student and daughter of a prosperous family gets engaged to Lai, an Amerasian with a black father, so that she might be able to go to the U.S. and meet her idol, Michael Jackson. However, the love of Tuan, a poor student who earns his living with a pedicab, leads Mai away from her school girl passion and dishonest engagement.
