H4410  HIGHLANDER  (USA, 1986)
(Other titles: Montagnard; Niesmierteiny)

Credits: director, Russell Mulcahy; writers, Gregory Widen, Peter Bellwood, Larry Ferguson; story, Gregory Widen.
Cast: Christopher Lambert, Roxanne Hart, Clancy Brown, Sean Connery.
Summary: Action/fantasy set in sixteenth century Scotland and contemporary New York City. A race of immortals battles each other over the centuries, fighting to be the sole survivor and win 'The Prize' of mortality. The Highlander, Connor MacLeod (Lambert), has been alive since 1536 where he fought for his clan against his nemesis, Kurgan. The only way an immortal may be killed is to lose his head to a sword stroke. MacLeod, now living as an antiques dealer in Manhattan, is discovered by a woman police sword expert who eventually becomes the captive of Kurgan in order to lure MacLeod to a final confrontation. One of the characters who confronts Kurgan along the way is a Vietnam veteran.

Benson, Sheila. “‘Highlander’: A Scottish stew gone sour in the mix” Los Angeles times (Mar 11, 1986), Calendar, p. 5.
[Reprinted in Film review annual 1987]
Carr, Jay. “Wandering aimlessly” Boston globe (Mar 8, 1986), Arts and film, p. 28
Christensen, Preben B. “‘Highlander’” Levende billeder 13 (Mar 1, 1987), p. 58.
[Reprinted in Film review annual 1987]
[Reprinted in Film review annual 1987]
Simenc, Marjan (see under Pelko, Stojan)
[Reprinted in Film review annual 1987]