Credits: director, Michael A. Simpson ; writer, Michael J. Malloy, Michael A. Simpson.
Cast: John Putch, Terry Beaver, Brad Dourif, Lane Davies.
Summary: Comedy/melodrama set in a 1960s West Virginia Catholic high school and Purgatory (a large gray room). Four graduates of the high school meet in Purgatory a lifetime later (one was killed in Vietnam), reminisce about their school days while trying to figure out what they have in common that put them where they are. The year was 1960. Kennedy was in the White House, rock 'n' roll was young. They were the golden days of parochial school, when the morning started with the Pledge of Allegiance and dirty jokes were a sin. You obeyed your teachers, or else, and always left room for the Holy Ghost between dancing partners. And a guy could get in a lot of trouble for impure thoughts.

Blowen, Michael. “‘Impure thoughts’ a dull, sophomoric satire” Boston globe (Nov 14, 1986), Arts and film, p. 39.