Series summary: Police melodrama based on the critically acclaimed novel and set in contemporary but fictional Sparta, Mississippi. It portrayed both the professional and personal pursuits of Sparta P.D’s officers led by Chief Gillespie (Carroll O’Connor).

My name is Hank (12/19/1989)

Credits: director, Harry Harris; writer, unknown.
Cast: Carroll O’Connor, David Hart, Howard Rollins, Barry K. Bernal.
Summary: A young Vietnamese refugee (Bernal) claims to be the son of a Sparta cop who died in the war. He quickly becomes a suspect in a murder/robbery after he accepts a ride from the real criminals. Chief Gillespie (O’Connor) investigates the young man’s story while Vietnam veteran Parker (Hart) reacts bitterly to his presence which is a painful reminder of the war.

No known reviews.