M2583 MARKED FOR DEATH (USA, 1990)
(Other titles: Designe pour mourir; Screwface)

Credits: director, Dwight H. Little; writers, Michael Grais, Mark Victor.
Cast: Stephen Seagal, Basil Wallace, Keith David, Tom Wright.
Summary: Action/adventure film set in contemporary Chicago. Drug Enforcement agent Hatcher (Seagal) who is about to retire finds his hometown (Chicago) overrun by violent drug dealers. When he gets in the way of the Jamaican drug lord Screwface, he and his family are marked for death. After an assault on his home, the enraged Hatcher and his Vietnam war buddy Max (David) go after the drug dealers with a vengeance.

Coto, Juan Carlos. “Death an anti-drug western” Miami herald (Oct 9, 1990), p. 5C.
Gibson, James William. Warrior dreams: paramilitary culture in post-Vietnam America [GB] (p. 76-7)
Jones, Steve. “Seagal is sure shot in ‘Marked for death’” USA today (Oct 8, 1990), p. 4D.
Lanning, Michael Lee. Vietnam at the movies [GB] (p. 268)
Noel, Jacques (see under Lefebvre, Pierre)
Thomas, Kevin. “Movie review: ‘Marked for death’ excels, but violently” Los Angeles times (Oct 8, 1990), Calendar, p. 4.
Walker, Mark Edward. Vietnam veteran films [GB] (p. 65)