N6050  NO MORE EXCUSES  (USA, 1968)

Credits: director/writer, Robert Downey.
Cast: Robert Downey, Alan Abel, Lawrence Wolf.
Summary: Experimental satire set in contemporary New York City. A Confederate soldier with a superficial wound in the buttock lies low until the war passes him by then flees to modern-day New York where he observes or is involved in a variety of strange situations, becomes fed up with modern civilization, and returns to the Civil War and is killed. One scene involves an ABC newsman questioning a rapist and his victim about their views on the Vietnam War.

“No more excuses” American Film Institute catalog [GB] (Entry F6.3515)
Williams, Tony. “No more excuses” Vietnam war films [GB] (Entry 412)

c2005 J.K.M. Enterprises