Credits: director, Gilbert Shilton; writer/story, Jon Cleary.

Cast: Kim Braden, Steve Railsback, Christopher Plummer.

Summary: Melodrama set in Australia, South Vietnam, London and New York in the 1970s and 80s. Cleo Spearfield (Braden) is the daughter of an Australian politician who uses daddy's influence to get a job as a photojournalist in Vietnam. She witnesses a My Lai-type massacre, but her efforts to publish are squelched. She finds love with a young American journalist (Railsback), but moves on to more high profile assignments in Europe and an affair with an English press lord (Plummer).
