Strike Commando (Italy, 1987)

Credits: director, Bruno Mattei (as Vincent Dawn); writer, Clyde Anderson.

Cast: Reb Brown, Christopher Connelly, Loes Kamma, Alan Collins.

Summary: War/adventure film set in South Vietnam in the 1970s. Michael Ransom (Brown) is the sole survivor of a deadly mission by the ‘Strike Commando Force’ in Vietnam. While being nursed back to health by friendly local villagers, he spots Russian advisors working with the NVA. When he returns to headquarters, his superiors order him back to the jungle to get photographic evidence of the Russian presence. There he gets involved in a one-on-one showdown with a shaved-headed Russian named Jakoda (Vitale) and his voluptuous assistant Olga (Kamma).
