Summary: Action/adventure film set in contemporary Texas. An atomic bomb is detonated in Siberia. The Russians blame the United States and threaten retaliation. The U.S. government declares martial law. This in turn prompts hordes of bikers, rapists and other nasty people to go berserk. Texas survivalist and Vietnam vet Jack Tillman (Railsback) has spent years preparing for just such a crisis, but his son is away at a remote desert summer camp. Tillman must fight his way through the hostile hordes and cross the desert to unite his family.
