T7140 TRAMPA INFERNAL (MEXICO, 1989)
(Other titles: Infernal death; Infernal trap)

Credits: director, Pedro Galindo; writer, Santiago Galindo.
Summary: Horror film set in contemporary Mexico. A group of seven young people travel to a remote lake in the woods where one of the boys has accepted a dare to hunt a man-eating bear. What they do not realize is that a nearby cave is the lair of a deformed, psychopathic Vietnam veteran who sports a Michael Myers type mask and a huge razor-like claw.
