

D3791 DAY OF RECKONING (USA, 3/7/1994) [TV]

Credits: director, Brian Grant ; writer, Stirling Silliphant ; story, Robert Ginty, Stirling Silliphant.

Cast: Fred Dryer, Patrick Bauchau, Kanin Chandasma, Sahachi Chumnum.

Summary: Action/adventure television film set in contemporary Thailand and Burma. Jack O'Brien (Dryer) is a Vietnam veteran ex-Special Forces captain who commanded a team that operated in the 'Golden Triangle.' He stayed in Thailand after the war and founded a travel business with his friend Matt. One day he leads two scientists into Burma - not realizing that his old enemy Andre Rouselle (Bauchau) is secretly behind the trip. Rouselle was once responsible for Jack's unit being wiped out in Vietnam. Jack's discovery of Rouselle's involvement leads to a showdown between the two.

Cerone, Daniel. "Expatriate games; Fed up with Hollywood, Oscar-winning screenwriter Stirling Silliphant moved to Thailand to escape the posturing and power plays, but the very things he fled followed him there when he wrote a movie for TV" Los Angeles times (Mar 6, 1994), Calendar, p. 4.