(NETHERLANDS/GERMANY/TURKEY, 1995)
(Other titles: Noah's ark)

Credits: director/writer, Herbert Curiel.

Cast: Paul Groot, Emel Sari, Talat Sagiroglu, Elvan Akyildiz.

Summary: Fantasy love story set in the contemporary Netherlands. An exasperated God gives an angel 90 minutes to make a film that proves the human race is worth saving, sending help in the form of Turkish-Dutch girl Feride (Sari), the last living descendant of Noah, and Edwin (Groot), the reincarnation of history's most just man. The pair have fallen in love and run away from their disapproving families and community to hide out until Feride's 18th birthday. The narrative is intercut with news footage of refugees including some from Vietnam.
