

La Salle's First TABA Cluster (Fall 2019):

This is Belfield

This cluster of TABA courses will examine La Salle's own neighborhood of Belfield. Led by faculty members Candace Robertson-James, Ph.D. (Public Health), Maureen O'Connell, Ph.D. (Religion and Theology), and Catherine Holochwost, Ph.D. (Art History), these courses will collectively examine Belfield's history, ecology, resources and challenges.

- ❖ Shared SLOs
- ❖ Shared ILO
- ❖ Shared Units
- ❖ Shared Readings
- ❖ Shared Community Engaged Activities

This is Belfield:
Religious Landscape

This is Belfield:
Public Health

This is Belfield:
An Ecological Perspective