RE: 2010 Distinguished Faculty Awards

In Spring 2004 the Faculty Senate recommended, and the Provost approved, the creation of two distinct faculty awards: one for scholarship and one for service. Nominations for the two Distinguished Faculty Awards are due Monday, May 3. Nominations should be sent to Michael Smith, Chair of the Faculty Senate Subcommittee on Academic and Faculty Affairs, through Campus Mail (Box 158) or preferably as e-mail attachments (Word or PDF files) to msmith@lasalle.edu. Please put “Distinguished Faculty Awards” in the “subject” line.

Faculty Distinguished Scholarship Award

1. Purpose:
The purpose of the award is to recognize and honor excellence in scholarship among our faculty colleagues.

2. Criterion for selecting a winner:
The award will be conferred for outstanding scholarly work done across one’s career at La Salle University (rather than for the activities of a single year). Please write a letter of nomination (not exceeding 500 words) explaining the reasons why you believe the faculty member should be a candidate for the Distinguished Scholar Award. In your letter, make sure to address the following:

   - The extent to which the person’s scholarly activity is programmatic (e.g., planned, purposeful, and conceptually and/or theoretically linked);
   - The extent to which this person’s scholarship represents significant and lasting effects on his or her field;
   - The extent to which this person’s scholarly activity has had a positive impact on La Salle, not only by adding to the University’s reputation, but also by including or influencing other members of the University community (students and/or colleagues);
   - The extent to which this person has been able to achieve excellence in scholarship while also demonstrating quality teaching and service.

Letters of recommendation should clearly demonstrate how the nominee’s work is exceptional according to discipline specific criteria.

3. Procedures:
All full-time members of the faculty are eligible for the award. Prior receipt of any other award will not affect eligibility. The ‘Awards Committee’—comprising the four members of the Faculty Senate Subcommittee on Academic and Faculty Affairs, two additional faculty members appointed for one-year terms by the Senate, and the Assistant Provost—will select the recipient from among nominations made by full-time faculty members. The at-large members of this Awards Committee will be selected in such a way that each of the schools of the University has at least one representative on the committee.

Early in the spring semester of each year, the Faculty Senate will solicit and receive nominations. Individual faculty members may nominate themselves or others by submitting a letter of nomination describing the contributions made by the nominee. The letters of nomination should be of sufficient detail so that they will stand by themselves as documentation of the justification for the award. On receiving nominations, the Awards Committee will inform the nominee and, if the nominee wishes to be considered for the award, the Committee will request that the nominee submit a curriculum vita and the names of two external evaluators from whom the committee will then solicit confidential letters of support. The Committee will then meet to identify the award recipient. There will be one recipient per year. Generally, in order that the award may be conferred in a timely fashion in a given year, the process of nomination and selection will be completed by May Commencement.

The recipient’s achievements will be recognized and honored at the Fall Honors Convocation, and the recipient will have the option of addressing brief remarks to those gathered. The Provost will award the recipient an honorarium of $1,000.00, and an award certificate. In addition, as abiding public recognition of the recipient’s achievements, a plaque bearing the recipient’s name will be placed in a prominent public space on campus.

Faculty Distinguished Service Award

1. Purpose:
The Faculty Distinguished Service Award is intended to recognize excellence in service among our faculty colleagues. Complementing the Lindback Award and the Faculty Distinguished Scholar Award, which respectively recognize excellence in teaching and excellence in scholarship, this award is intended to recognize excellence in community service.

2. Criterion for selecting a winner:
This award is given for exceptional involvement in and devotion to the good of the University community for collegial contributions that advance the University’s mission, and for leadership in building a Lasallian sense of fellowship either among the branches of the University or between the University and the larger community to which La Salle belongs.

Please write a letter of nomination (not exceeding 500 words) explaining the reasons why you believe the faculty member should be a candidate for the Distinguished Service Award. In your letter, make sure to address the following:
   - The nature of the person’s service;
   - The extent to which this person’s service demonstrates devotion to the good of the University community and/or advances the University’s mission;
   - A description of how collegiality and/or fellowship is a defining aspect of this person’s service;
   - The extent to which this person has been able to achieve excellence in service while also demonstrating quality teaching and scholarship.

3. Procedures:
All full-time members of the faculty are eligible for the award. Prior receipt of this or any other award will not affect eligibility.

The ‘Awards Committee’—comprising the four members of the Faculty Senate Subcommittee on Academic and Faculty Affairs, two additional faculty members appointed for one-year terms by the Senate, and the Assistant Provost—will review the nomination letters. The at-large members of the committee will be selected in such a way that each of the schools of the University has at least one representative on the committee.

Early in the spring semester of each year, the Faculty Senate will solicit and receive nominations. Individuals may nominate themselves or others by submitting a letter of nomination describing the contributions made by the nominee. The letters of nomination should be written so that they will stand by themselves as documentation of the justification for the award, explicitly identifying the nominee’s service to the University. On receiving nominations, the Awards Committee will inform the nominee and, if the nominee wishes to be considered for the award, the Committee will request that the nominee submit a curriculum vita. The Awards Committee will review applications and identify a short list of no more than three candidates. The committee will then meet with the Provost to identify the recipient. There will be one recipient per year. Generally, in order that the award may be conferred in a timely fashion in a given year, the process of nomination and selection will be completed by May Commencement.

The recipient’s achievements will be recognized and honored at the Opening Academic Convocation, and the recipient will have the option of addressing brief remarks to those gathered. The Provost will award the recipient an honorarium of $1,000.00 and an award certificate. In addition, as abiding public recognition of the recipient’s achievements, a plaque bearing the recipient’s name will be placed in a prominent public space on campus.

Abbreviated Summer Schedule for Campus News Begins in May
Because Campus News is considerably shorter in length throughout the months when the Fall and Spring Semesters are no longer in session, it will be published every other week beginning with the May 7 issue and ending with the August 12 issue, when it will again be published weekly. The issues are as follows:

May 7
June 4
June 17
July 1
July 15
July 29
August 12 (resumes weekly publication)

If you have a notice about an event taking place in one of the weeks in which Campus News is not published, please submit it the week before. Employment will be posted weekly in the Employment channel of the Resources & Services tab on the MyLaSalle portal.

Liquid Nitrogen at its Best: Ice Cream Never Tasted So Good

Demo/Discussion led by Faculty from the Chemistry Department

Wednesday, April 28, 3:00 p.m.
Holroyd Lobby (FREE FOOD)

Come join us in exploring the chemistry of food as we take on the delicious, creamy dessert favorite, ICE CREAM!

Not only will we discuss the science of liquid nitrogen and how it can be used to make ice cream, we’ll also journey back to the unique origins of the savory dessert, a history that may surprise you.

Make (and devour) your own liquid nitrogen ice cream treats as we celebrate the LAST Explorer Café of the year.

Explorer Cafés are open to all.
