CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL PARKING RESTRICTION

NO PARKING
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 2010

On Wednesday, September 22, Central High School will be hosting evening functions at their school for students and parents. Therefore, La Salle students and staff will not be permitted use of Central High School’s lot on this date.

Accordingly, the access gate onto Main Campus from Central High School’s lot will not be opened for use on Wednesday, September 22.

Please remember, as part of our understanding with Central High School, use of their lot is dependent upon availability. The only other requirements are the following:

1.) Cars may not enter that parking area before 5 p.m.
2.) Cars parking there after 5 p.m. must display a La Salle parking permit.
3.) All vehicles must be out of Central High School’s lot by 10:45 p.m.

La Salle students and staff who normally use Central’s parking area during the evening hours Monday through Thursday may make use of University lots, provided that they have an appropriate parking permit.

Please check the La Salle University website regularly for future announcements as to when the Central High School parking lot will be unavailable for La Salle student and staff use.

"Unscientific America: How Scientific Illiteracy Threatens Our Future"

Featuring science and political journalist and bestselling author Chris Mooney

Monday, September 20, 1:00 p.m., Dan Rodden Theatre

All are welcome!

Evolution, climate change, vaccination—some of the biggest controversies today turn on scientific topics. And as a society, we usually don’t handle these controversies very well. But what’s the cause? Are Americans ignorant about science? Disengaged? Disinterested? Or is the problem that scientists themselves can’t communicate—or that the media covers science poorly and leaves us uninformed (or worse, misinformed) overall?

Chris Mooney will present as the Fall 2010 keynote lecturer for the Science in Society initiative (formerly Celebration of Science). In his talk, Chris will address why our society has a dysfunctional relationship with scientific information, where to lay the blame—and what we can do to restore the situation.

Read Chris’ full bio at http://blogs.discovermagazine.com/intersection/aboutus/.

The Case of Executive Compensation

David Robison, Ph.D., Economics

Wednesday, September 22, 3:00 p.m.
Holroyd Lobby (Free Food)

What is “just” compensation for top corporate executives? Can a market with relatively few, and extremely specialized, job openings each year really be competitive and produce competition-based compensation? And, if the market is competitive, is that sufficient to make it a “just” outcome? We’ll take on these questions and more at the Explorer Café.

Explorer Cafés are every Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. Open to all.

1. Executive Session for University standing committee appointments

2. Updates
Provost Search Committee—Jeanne Welsh
The Search Committee has met with Brother Michael and the Consultant to discuss the four candidates. The President will decide whether to invite candidates for a second interview.

3. On-going Development of Tenured Faculty policy proposal
A change was suggested for the second bullet point in the document: “A recognition that although teaching, scholarship, service, and other activities (such as practice, partnerships, and community engagement) are important for each tenured member of the faculty, relative emphasis of these activities might vary among individual members of the faculty.” This change was approved.

On the recommendation of the Provost, the policy will be tested for a few years before being introduced as a Handbook addition. The policy will be reviewed by the Senate in three years.

In response to questions from senators, it was stated that the document has not been designed to be burdensome or authoritative. The document was approved by the Senate 18-0-0. The Senate President will forward the document with the revision to the Provost and Deans of the three Schools.

4. Report on the Distinguished Service and Distinguished Scholarship Awards
Mike Smith noted that the committee has received nominations for both awards and is reviewing c.v.’s and gathering outside evaluations.

5. Third-Year Review Policy
This item is on the agenda for the Council of Deans on May 20, 2010.

6. FAP
Contracts have been distributed, and a decision will be made about salary increases and adjustments when the census is complete in October.

The Senate President thanked out-going Senators for their service, Marjorie Allen, Marianne Dainton, Janine Marsicotti, Bonni Zetick

Respectfully submitted,
Margaret M. McGuinness, Vice President
