Re: 2010 Thanksgiving Closing Procedures

All University residences will close on Tuesday, November 23, 2010, at 6:00 p.m. and will re-open on Sunday, November 28, 2010, at 9:00 a.m. All students must vacate University housing by 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 23, 2010 unless they have an approved housing extension granted by Administrative Services.

Housing extensions for students living in the resident halls will be granted only for students who need temporary housing for University reasons or to assist with travel arrangements. Students requesting a housing extension must submit their request online through MyLaSalle under the Student Affairs channel no later than November 5. No exceptions will be made after November 5.

On Monday November 8, a list of students approved for housing extensions will be available on the portal.

To request a housing extension for any University break period (Thanksgiving, Winter Break, Spring Break or End-of-the-Year Closing), faculty, staff and students can submit those requests on-line through the MyLaSalle portal on the Life@ La Salle tab in the Living channel.

A list of on-call emergency personnel will be available for Thanksgiving Break on the “Residential Living” portal group for the on-call Administrative Services, Security and Community Development staff.
Undocumented Students and the DREAM Act

Interested in the debate over immigration? At this Explorer Café we will discuss the concept of an “undocumented” student. We will also examine the Development, Relief and Education for Alien Minors (DREAM) Act, which would provide a path to legal residency for some of the young people who came to the U.S. as children. Please join us in exploring the moral and political issues surrounding immigration reform and access to higher education.

Explorer Cafés are every Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. Open to all.

Re: Four Loko

Many of you may be aware of the alcohol energy drink Four Loko, as it has recently gained much local and national media attention. The staff in the Alcohol and Other Drug Education Center along with our colleagues in Community Development have been hearing about and witnessing the dangerous effects Four Loko has had on our own students. In our continued efforts to reduce underage and high risk drinking at La Salle, we are actively addressing the serious risks associated with Four Loko. Currently Administration, Staff, Faculty and Students are engaged in discussions and activities to prevent consumption and the extreme negative consequences associated with Four Loko. By providing you with this information we hope to encourage conversations about the risks associated with consuming alcohol energy drinks. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us. Thank you for your assistance and support.

- Four Loko is sold in a 23.5 oz can and costs $2.50-$3.00 per can.¹
- Ingredients include: 12% alcohol by volume, caffeine, guarana, taurine, natural and artificial fruit flavoring, carbonation, and sugar.²
- Drinking 1 Four Loko is equal to approximately 4-5 standard drinks, the caffeine in 3-4 cans of Coke, and has an estimated 600-800 calories per can.¹
- Four Loko has caused students to experience: Walking Blackouts, Hyper-Vigilance, Anxiety, Heart Palpitations, Psychosis-like Episodes, Extreme Mood Swings, Alcohol Poisoning and other dangerous consequences.
- A study by Wake Forest University School of Medicine found that students who combine alcohol and caffeine are more likely to experience alcohol related injuries than students who drink only alcohol.²
- While alcohol is a depressant and slows down respiration and heart rate, caffeine’s stimulating effects can mask the effects of the alcohol consumed, making it more likely that a student will drink more than a student who drinks only alcohol.³
- Alcohol poisoning from drinks like Four Loko may be exhibited in similar and dissimilar ways to alcohol poisoning from other types of alcohol.
- At this time the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, Food and Drug Administration and the Federal Trade Commission are investigating the safety of this product and other alcohol energy drinks.

November Health Tip: Blood Pressure

What is blood pressure?

- Blood pressure is the measure of pressure exerted by blood against the walls of your arteries.
- Normal blood pressure is <120/80.
- High blood pressure is known as Hypertension.
- High blood pressure is classified when you have two or more readings of the top number ≥140 and the bottom number ≥90.
- Hypertension does not always cause symptoms that you can see or feel, so it may go unnoticed!
- Does anyone in your family have high blood pressure?
  - Remember high blood pressure is genetic, so you should be aware!
- Smoking, obesity, and diabetes are all major diseases that can cause high blood pressure!
- Be careful. It rarely causes symptoms, but it can affect your whole body.
- It increases risk for strokes, heart attack, and kidney problems!
- GOOD NEWS! You can prevent high blood pressure: plus there are ways to control already existing hypertension!

How can I prevent or control my high blood pressure?

- Maintain a healthy weight by exercising. Even losing 5lbs. can help lower your blood pressure!
- Eating low sodium foods, more fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and low fat food.
- Drink less alcohol and quit smoking.

Executive Session
The Senate convened an Executive Session to discuss a recommendation for a committee appointment.

Approval of Minutes
The Minutes of the meeting of September 28, 2010 were approved by a vote of 18-0-0.

Mediation and Grievance Policy Discussion
Guest: Marjorie Allen
Discussion included revising the current Grievance Policy in the handbook or proposing a new policy that would more effectively meet the needs of the faculty involved in the grievance process. Marjie presented concerns for the current policy and the limitations contained in the existing process. Issues were raised as to whether a policy could be written that would enable the committee to more effectively serve the needs of the grievant so that a successful outcome could effectively assist the faculty member and avoid further more adversarial actions. The ambiguity of the role of faculty members on the committee led to a discussion concerning an alternate approach which would engage an outside agency to hear faculty grievances. Discussion continued with the agreed upon need for some forum for grievance. It was decided that the next meeting would involve setting up an ad hoc working group to consider how to proceed with revising or rewriting the grievance policy.

Tenure and Promotion Standards Discussion was rescheduled for the next meeting in November.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:50 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted,
Mary Ellen A. McMonigle, Secretary

Director and Head Curator, La Salle University Art Museum

The La Salle University Art Museum is seeking a Director and Head Curator. The Director will provide the overall strategy and direction for the exhibition and education programs, care and maintenance of the permanent collection, all fundraising and financial operations, public relations, and supervision and direction of the Museum’s staff and volunteers. Possessing a broad knowledge of museum practices, the Director must be an engaging leader, capable of building relationships with a wide range of constituents including students, faculty, community members, and donors. The La Salle Art Museum is the only university or college museum in the Philadelphia area with a permanent display of Western art from the Renaissance to the present. The collection comprises European and American paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, and documents themes both sacred and secular. Additional smaller collections include Japanese prints, ancient Greek ceramics, and African art.

Primary Duties and Responsibilities:
- In cooperation with University Advancement, plans, develops, and implements strategies for generating resources and/or revenues for the organization.
- Coordinates the museum’s services with the educational functions of the university.
- With the University’s Board of Trustees and Art Museum Advisory Board, establishes and implements short- and long-range organizational goals, objectives, policies, and operating procedures; monitors and evaluates operational effectiveness; effects changes required for improvement.
- Directs and oversees the acquisition and professional management of a wide range of art objects; directs and oversees accessioning, de-accessioning, preservation, research, and other related professional activities.
- Working with University Communications, plans, coordinates, and oversees the unit’s public affairs, and communications efforts, to include public relations and community outreach.
- Designs, establishes, and maintains an organizational structure and staffing to effectively accomplish the organization’s goals and objectives; recruits, employs, trains, and supervises unit staff. In this regard, the Director will develop metrics to determine how well this organization meets its goals and objectives.
- Develops and manages annual budgets.
- Represents the art museum through leadership on various committees both inside and outside the university. Networks with art historians and museum professionals, through meetings, conferences and collaborative projects.

Competitive salary commensurate with experience and qualifications. Benefits package included.

Qualifications: M.A in art history, Ph.D. preferred with specialization in Renaissance to contemporary art. At least 5 years prior museum experience (including some supervisory or administrative experience) required. (This is not intended as an entry-level position.) The ideal candidate will be highly organized and should have good communication skills.

The deadline for applications is December 10, 2010. Please submit a letter of application, résumé, and a list of three references to the following:
