Re: PAISIG Wellness Effort

As you know, the University is part of PAISIG, a consortium of 134 Independent Schools in the Philadelphia area. PAISIG works aggressively with Wellness programs to try and keep health care rates down.

Just a reminder that if you review the five wellness initiatives listed below, you can improve your health and also help La Salle control our healthcare costs.

The 5 categories are:

1. Accept Case Management Calls - this only applies to the Chronically Sick in our group, but if it pertains to you, and IBC reaches out to you about enrolling in Case Management, try to say yes.

2. Accept Connections Phone Calls - IBC reaches out all the time to members who they see as potentially needing help. These calls come into your phone’s Caller ID as “Connections“. Simply taking that phone call helps the University meet our Wellness metric.

3. Complete a Health Profile - Everyone is able to login into www.ibxpress.com and complete a health profile, which give an analysis about your specific health. Completing a health profile helps the University meet the Wellness metric.

4. Join Weight Watchers - if you join Weight Watchers, call 1-800-ASK BLUE to record your efforts. You can be eligible for $200 back towards the cost of the program and it counts towards La Salle’s Wellness effort.

5. Join a Fitness Facility - if you join a Fitness Facility (YMCA, etc.), call 1-800-ASK BLUE to record your efforts. You can be eligible for $150 back towards the cost of the program and it counts towards La Salle’s Wellness effort.

Thank you in advance for joining us in this effort!

Hooking Up and Alcohol Use on Campus: Exploring the Connections

Kathleen Bogle, Ph.D., Sociology
Wednesday, March 16, 3:00 p.m.
Holroyd Atrium (Free Food)

Does alcohol use lead to hooking up or is the hookup culture fueling alcohol consumption on campus? What does it mean for sexual or romantic relationships to begin under the influence of alcohol? How can we identify situations when someone is too drunk to engage in a hookup encounter? What are the social, moral, and legal implications of hooking up? And, ultimately, how does it affect the health, happiness and spirituality of students? Come explore these important questions with the author of "Hooking Up: Sex, Dating, and Relationships on Campus."

Explorer Cafés are every Wednesday at 3:00p.m. Open to all.

Health Advisory Committee Meeting
February 25, 2011

Present: Co-Chair: Lane Neubauer; Members: Lindsay Cicchino, Kate Cook, Br. John Crawford, Mike Gilbert, Matt Gionta, Chris Mickel, Mary Wilby
Absent: Marjorie Allen, Mark Badstubner, Jeff Lyons, Lexi Major, Vanessa Ocasio, & Co-Chair: Dina Oleksiak; Guest: Sarah Segaline;

I. Spring Blood Drive
   a. Spring Blood Drive donor recruitment is in progress. At the time of the HAC meeting, recruitment was on target to meet its goals of signing up 300 potential donors.
   b. Fifteen student organizations staffed 29 Blood Drive recruiting tables in the Food Court, B & G, Tree Tops and Benilde Atrium.

II. NCHA Survey
   a. The Alcohol and Other Drug Education Center has initiated the National College Health Assessment. Approximately 600 students are needed for a valid sample size.
   b. The HAL was asked to encourage students to complete the survey.

III. Department of Public Health Smoking Symposium
   a. DPH is hosting a symposium (April 6) aimed at moving universities in the Philadelphia area towards becoming smoke free.
   b. Dr. Neubauer and Dina Oleksiak as well as the School of Nursing’s Public Health student nurses will be attending.

IV. Smoking Proposal
   a. Since the last HAC meeting, additional letters of endorsement for “designated smoking” at La Salle have been received from Admissions and Athletics.
   b. Verbal support has been given by additional key departments but formal letters are still pending, thus will be documented in the HAC minutes when the letters are received.

V. Wister Air Quality – Mr. Joe Birster responded to the concerns that were forwarded to him by the HAC regarding air quality, chipped, paint and broken tiles in Wister Hall. The following is Mr. Birster’s email response:

1) We (Facilities Management) explored the Wister building for any unusual smells/air quality concerns, and also brought in an outside air quality sampling contractor to test the air quality. The results did not indicate any indoor quality concerns. We do have an exhaust system within the boiler room, and it does correctly operate each day while the boilers are running.
2) Wister Hall was built in a time period where asbestos floor tiles existed, (as they still do today in a different capacity), and there are still several areas in the building where they exist. They are not dangerous while intact and in place. At times, through wear-and-tear, they come loose, and are reported and, if needed, removed. Unless they become airborne and crumble by rubbing them together in your hands, they are not dangerous. If small quantities of tiles are noted as cracked, they can be easily removed by a carpenter with no immediate danger, and replaced with a newer type of VCT, (Vinyl Composite Tile). If the entire area was being removed, (like in a renovation), we would hire a licensed asbestos removal contractor and follow the City of Philadelphia protocols to remove large quantities of tile.
3) The radiators do need painting as noted in the pictures, and we will be doing that soon. There is no danger with this situation unless you were to somehow ingest the paint chips.
4) The picture of the pipe with insulation is not an asbestos-insulated pipe, it is standard pipe insulation. We will revisit the site and re-wrap it again with sealant tape.

VI. March Health Tip of the Month – Problem Gambling
VII. Dr. Neubauer reviewed the activities being planned for National Eating Disorder Awareness Week.
VIII. Committee assignments for the Health Advisory Committee’s Health Fair (“High on Health”) were reviewed and everyone was encouraged to begin working on his or her assignment. Approximately 40 vendors are currently lined up to participate in the Health Fair.
IX. Lindsay Cicchino informed the HAC about SGA’s upcoming Basketball Marathon scheduled for March 24 and 26. Money raised goes to the American Cancer Society.
X. Next Meeting will be March 18 in the Lawrence Conference Room.

Lane B. Neubauer Ph.D., Co-Chair
