Re: 2011 Thanksgiving Closing Procedures

All University residences will close on Tuesday, November 22, 2011, at 6:00 p.m. and will re-open on Sunday, November 27, 2011, at 9:00 a.m. All students must vacate University housing by 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 22, 2011 unless they have an approved housing extension.

Housing extensions for students living in the resident halls will be granted only for students who need temporary housing for University reasons or to assist with travel arrangements. Students requesting a housing extension must submit their request no later than November 8. No exceptions will be made after November 8.

To request a housing extension for this or any University break period (Thanksgiving, Winter Break, Spring Break or End-of-the-Year Closing), students can submit requests on-line through the mylasalle portal on the Life at La Salle tab in the Living channel.

Academic, department and program chairs/coaches/supervisors should submit a list of approved students participating in academic or other University related events. The list of students should contain the student’s name, ID # and their purpose for staying beyond the deadline date for any applicable periods as outlined below. Your list is for reference purpose only and does not mean a student has been submitted for an extension request. As many students stay for various reasons and needs, each student must submit his or her own request. We use the information you provide to verify specific requests.

A list of on-call emergency personnel will be available for Thanksgiving Break on the “Residential Living” portal group for the on-call Administrative Services, Security and Community Development staff.

Join Tjai Abdullah and David McShane, both muralists with the City of Philadelphia Mural Arts Program (MAP), for a discussion on the role of arts in restorative justice. Tjai will share her first hand experiences in her journey through MAP’s Restorative Justice Program as a springboard to explore topics related to the criminal justice system and how the arts can influence the lives of both inmates and victims.

“The Café will be preceded by a screening of the award-winning film Concrete Steel & Paint at 1:00p.m. in Olney 100. The film explores the nature of crime, justice, punishment and the power of art in reconciliation and healing. All are welcome to attend.

When men in a Pennsylvania state prison join with victims of crime to create a mural about healing, their views on punishment, remorse, and forgiveness collide. This complex story raises important questions about crime, justice and reconciliation—and dramatically illustrates how art can facilitate dialogue about difficult issues.

Following the film, there will be a discussion about restorative justice and the arts at the Explorer Café, from 3-4 in the Holroyd Atrium.

Approval of Minutes
The Minutes of April 5, 2011 were approved with a vote of 14-0-1

Executive Session

Leaves and Grants Update
Discussion involved the need for a change in the Handbook concerning the composition of the committee - five faculty while the charge is four; emphasis placed on all schools having representation. Five faculty will remain on the committee with all schools represented; two faculty from the SAS. Proposal requires approval of University Council and the Board of Trustees. Proposal will be forwarded to the Provost before presentation to University Council.  Motion to approve 15-0-0

Mission Integration Office
Names were suggested for Senate recognition for two appointments for this Advisory Board.

Partial Retirement Policy Update
Mike Smith reported that not much has changed since last year. Issues included current concerns of partially retired faculty; 5 years reduced to 3 years; impact on departments with these changes; and inclusion of non-tenure track faculty who meet the criteria. Steps were identified to collect more information from current partially retired and those considering partial retirement.

Mediation and Grievance Update
Mike Smith indicated that the policy in the Handbook needs to be reviewed. The process is viewed as a sequential process and some faculty would prefer to separate mediation and grievance. Training was cited as an important aspect to strengthen the quality of the processes.

Faculty Senate Webpage
Webpage needs to be updated with current Senate appointments and schedule for 2011-2012.

Peer Review of Teaching
Discussion involved the need for a set of guidelines that would be useful for all of the Schools. It was discussed that it should be a formative process and encourage improvement of teaching and be supportive especially to new faculty. The faculty development committee will be consulted.

National Campus Safety Awareness Month
Gerry Ballough read a statement issued by Paul Roden and requested the support of the Senate. The statement is:
“Be it resolved that the Academic Senate endorses the National Campus Safety Month and urges all members of the Faculty, Administration and Student body to participate and attend events on Campus during the month of September. We urge all members of the Faculty at the start or end of their classes to ask their students if they have signed up for the Emergency Text Messaging System, to use the La Salle Shuttle, to download and use the Shuttle Tracking Application if they have smart phone devices and to follow the safety and security tips available at the Security and Safety Office and through the Student Affairs Department.”

This was supported by the Senate.

Dean, School of Nursing and Health Sciences

La Salle University invites applications and recommendations for the position of the Dean of the School of Nursing and Health Sciences. As the chief executive officer for the School of Nursing and Health Sciences (SONHS), the Dean must be committed to the Catholic mission of the University and provide strategic vision and operational leadership in all aspects of the School’s academic and scholarly programs. Reporting to the Provost, the Dean will help to implement La Salle University’s Strategic Plan The Will to Excel and will have an opportunity to develop a shared vision for the School and the strategies to support its implementation.

La Salle University’s highly respected School of Nursing and Health Sciences is located in the culturally rich and diverse metropolitan area of Philadelphia. This urban location facilitates strong relationships between the School and the community and numerous educational, social welfare, and health care organizations. The School is comprised of several distinguished undergraduate and graduate programs in the disciplines of Nursing, Nutrition, Speech-Language-Hearing Science, Health Studies, and Public Health. The School offers several certificate programs and operates the oldest nurse-led wellness center in the United States. The School of Nursing and Health Sciences occupies a recently renovated and well-appointed space on La Salle’s main campus.

The Dean will provide strong academic leadership, vision, and financial management; encourage the pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, and service; invest in resource and program development; and enrich the reputation of the School of Nursing and Health Sciences nationally and internationally. The Dean will lead in the recruitment and retention of diverse faculty, staff, and students. The Dean will cultivate community relations and promote interdisciplinary collaborations within the School and University. The Dean will oversee tenure and promotion for faculty and accreditation for programs within the School.

The successful candidate will be nationally recognized with demonstrated leadership in teaching, research, and public service. He or she will embrace innovative technologies in support of the School’s educational, clinical, and research enterprises. This individual will hold an earned doctorate in one of the health sciences; have substantial administrative experience in program development and accreditation; have a demonstrated record of securing external funding for research and scholarship; and possess the credentials that merit appointment at the rank of full professor.

La Salle University was founded in 1863, a legacy of St. John Baptist de La Salle and the Christian Brothers teaching order he founded 300 years ago. The University is an educational community shaped by traditional Catholic and Lasallian values: a deep respect for each individual, a belief that intellectual and spiritual development go hand in hand, a passion for creative teaching and learning, and a conviction that education should be useful — for personal growth, professional advancement, and service to others. La Salle serves approximately 3,400 full-time undergraduates, 2,100 graduate students, and 1,100 part-time students. The University attracts students from 32 states and 42 countries and offers more than 40 undergraduate majors and 21 graduate programs including three doctoral programs.

Review and acceptance of applications will begin and will continue at the discretion of the University until an appointment is made. It is expected that the new Dean will begin work August 1, 2012. Application materials should include: 1) a letter of interest that addresses the candidate’s experiences and qualifications as they relate to the above listed requirements for this position and 2) a curriculum vitae.
